Attention All Providers: Guidelines for Billing Certain Conditions Originating in the Perinatal Period

Per ICD-10-CM Chapter 16 (Certain conditions originating in the perinatal period) guidelines, certain conditions originating in the perinatal period (diagnosis codes P00-P96) may be used throughout the life of the recipient if the condition is still present. When billing claims with diagnosis codes P00 through P96 for recipients that are outside of the perinatal period (defined as birth through the 28th day following birth), providers must submit their claims with an attachment that documents that the onset of the condition/diagnosis occurred within the first 28 days from birth.
